

MODULE 44

More Important Distinctions

Synopsis for Case File 44, More Important Distinctions

I found 33 more lists of important Distinctions in my chronicle of Professor's teachings! In this module you will find two more lists from 2003, and all my lists from 2004 through 2006. In Module 45, you will find the remaining lists that will take you up to the time of Professor's passing. As I worked on these lists, I was moved by the change in focus as Professor approached the time of his death. I hope you can hear his whispers of love and encouragement.

You will find the previous Important Distinctions in Case File 35, The Embodiment of Two Realms.

Once again, read with your yin yang eyes. Look beyond the words; pay attention to the nuances; see the connections between different adjustments and methods; and let your Buddha nature see into the heart of Professor's teachings.

Here is one special note from Professor:

Practice the Heart Sutra daily. Our teachings are spiritual, and understanding requires practice. It is time to put the teachings into action spiritually. If you read the teachings, write the teachings, even explain the teachings, but do not practice the teachings, all will be mundane.
