

FAITH – LOVE – HOPE

Understanding the transition from the Old Testament to New Testament in it's implication and it's application as presented by the Hebrew writer.

The first element of application is the entering of the holiest with boldness. We are challenged not to stay in the outer court of the Tabernacle – which primarily represents the forgiveness of sins. Neither the Holy place – which focuses on the labor of the priesthood. But rather, into the most holy place, the inner sanctum, where there is the awareness of the presence of God.

How is this understanding practiced in your life?

FAITH, LOVE and HOPE find definition and expression in different ways in the INDIVIDUAL CHRISTIAN, in the LOCAL CHURCH and in the COMMUNITY or CITY.

Give short references to each component listed to show understanding of how it changes when we engage the city.

1. FAITH

[22] let us draw near with a true heart in FULL ASSURANCE OF FAITH, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water
