

Future Tense – going to

I'm going to book a caravan for a lovely short break somewhere in Wales. I'm not going to leave it too late, because I know they're being snapped up.

I'm going to take plenty of engaging activities for the kids for while we're there. They're going to love it. It's not going to be too hot or close, which is great.

For the duration of the trip, I'm going to take loads of pics and videos and I'm going to share them with family and friends when we get back home.

I'm not going to spend an arm and a leg on the caravan, but I'm not going to book a rusty old banger, either. I'm going to get one that's nicely decorated, modern and one that has a lovely deck for afternoon tea.
