

World Adventure

Introduction

Choose someone to read aloud to the group:

“A sequence is a list of instructions that a person or a robot can follow. For example, if you wanted to make cookies, you would follow a recipe. The recipe would be like the “code” or the instructions, and if you would be like the robot, following the instructions to make the cookies. Can you think of any more real-life examples? Write them down, or share them verbally with the group.”

Independent Practice

1. Explore the Path App
2. Drag your finger (starting from where Dash is on the screen) to create a path for Dash to follow. Be sure to understand which way he is facing on the screen vs on the ground.
3. Try adding and recording a custom sound to play somewhere along the path
4. Try to estimate and create a path so that Dash visits all the continents in the world

Curriculum Connection - Geography

1. Record a sound to name each of the 7 continents. Play the appropriate sound in the correct order as you visit each continent.
2. Learn about the animals around the world. Record the sounds they make or record their names and play them when you visit that part of the world.
