◈ Access Across 40 Core Technology Subjects

An active subscription membership provides access to available TTLML resources covering all 40 technology subjects and hundreds of related and interconnected technologies. Resource selections and availability may evolve as the library grows.

▦ Monthly Resource Availability

At least two resources of each learning type are intended to be made available for member access each month. The number and selection may vary and increase as new materials are added.

NOTE: With an active subscription, you maintain access to all monthly resource additions, including bonus resources and upgrades.

Learning Resources and Downloadable Bonuses

Membership brings together different formats and content types so learners can explore concepts, strengthen comprehension, and study in ways that suit them.

▤ Bonus Microlearning eBook Library

Explore the 100-Book Microlearning eBook Library, designed to support focused learning across transformative technology topics.

MSRV $29/each (Save $59.98/month)

↓ More Downloadable Learning Materials

Membership includes numerous additional downloadable resources. Where the file format permits, downloads support convenient offline study and help you build a personal digital library.

Additional Bonus: PLAR Resources

✓ Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR)

Available PLAR resources help learners document, demonstrate, and validate their Transformative Technology Literacy knowledge and skills. They support digital portfolio development and exploration of ways to present prior learning for potential recognition in academic and career pathways. Acceptance, credit, or recognition is determined by the relevant employer or institution.

Online and Offline Learning

Review available resources online or download them for convenient personal study, including offline access when the file format permits.

Renewal, Cancellation, and Download Rights

↻ Membership Renewal

After the first month, the subscription renews at $19.95 per month unless canceled.

× Cancel at Any Time

You may cancel at any time to prevent future renewals. The initial $9.95 payment is non-refundable. The current billing period is not refundable upon cancellation unless otherwise required by applicable law.

↓ Keep Resources You Download

You may retain resources downloaded during your active membership for continued personal study after cancellation. Download retention does not transfer ownership of TTLML content or permit redistribution, resale, or public sharing of copyrighted materials.

Updates, Upgrades, and New Resources

+ No Additional Fees for Included Updates

Your membership includes access to available updates, upgrades, and newly developed learning materials covered by your membership, with no additional fees beyond your regular subscription price. Eligible improvements do not require separate upgrade payments. The subscription price remains $19.95 per month after the initial non-refundable $9.95 first month, unless subscription terms change with appropriate notice.

Ongoing Library Development

TTLML is a developing learning library. Resource availability, content, and selection may evolve as additional Transformative Technology Literacy materials are published.
