

Statement regarding Christian use of the Enneagram from Your Enneagram Coach (where I received my Enneagram Coaching Certification):

The mission of Your Enneagram Coach is for people to see themselves with astonishing clarity so they can break free from self-condemnation, fear, and shame by knowing and experiencing the unconditional love, forgiveness, and freedom in Christ.

Because of this mission, you will find us repeatedly stating that the Enneagram is a helpful tool, but it is the gospel of Jesus Christ that brings transformation.

Recently, articles have been published where Oscar Ichazo and Claudia Narajo explain their spiritual experiences in the development of their thoughts about the Enneagram. Both these men contributed significantly to what we now consider the Enneagram. We don't deny these accounts. These accounts should cause concern for Christians, concerns we have considered in our 20 years of studying the Enneagram.

The Enneagram is a communal tool. Unlike other founders of religions, sects, or movements, contemporary teachers of the Enneagram do not necessarily follow the ideas, beliefs, or practices of previous teachers. On the contrary, you will find that each Enneagram teacher presents the Enneagram according to their worldview, sometimes adding, subtracting, or redefining concepts contained in the Enneagram.

In our presentation of the Enneagram, we have removed, or redefined, all aspects of the Enneagram that do not align with a Biblical worldview. We direct people to spiritual disciplines, not unbiblical spiritual practices. Our goal, as laid out in our mission statement, seeks to focus people's attention upon the person and work of Jesus Christ.
